JULY TERM COURT OPENS.

(From Monday's Daily)

Just before going to press the jury in the Weeks case returned in to court bringing in a verdict of not guilty.

The July term of the Superior court opened in Tombstone today for the trial of criminal cases which will last until the latter part of August.

The first case called to trial following the swearing of the jury which reported for the term, was the case of the State against Robert Weeks who is charged with committing a statutory offense on the person of Mabel Campbell, who is under 18 years of age.

The case occupied most of the day, going to the jury shortly before four o'clock. The state rested its case at 2:45, the defense only putting on one witness, the defendant, closing its case. Arguments of attorneys for both sides occupied forty-five minutes and the case went to the jury. Tomorrow the case of the state against P. E. Trotter, charged with a similar offense will be tried.

One feature of the case today was the refusal of one witness for the state, Mildred Hasty, to testify on the stand and she was ordered locked up in a cell in the juvenile department by Judge Lockwood and to remain there in solitary confinement.

Attorneys Stephenson, Mannett and White represented the defendant while Assistant County Attorney M. L. McKeligan appeared for the state.

Following is the panel of jurors who reported for duty:

SAYS VETS EXEMPT

FROM TAX 6 MONTHS

PHOENIX, July 12.—Attorney General Wiley E. Jones has rendered an opinion interpreting the taxation law applying to soldiers, to the effect that they cannot be compelled to pay poll or school taxes for a period of six months after discharge from the service.

He points out the fact that the act specifies that the property of service men and his wife, if the total value does not exceed $3,000, is not subject to taxation during military service, nor are they required to pay school or poll taxes during this period, and in another section the term of military service is interpreted to mean for a period of six months after discharge.

MEXICO ASKS THAT TWO

Garcia, a former captain and army paymaster, was arrested recently in San Francisco; Carasco, his chauffeur was arrested here today. Sr. Tamez' instructions came from Ignacio Bonilla, Mexican minister to the United States.

Sandberg Vice Commander

At the concluding session of the convention, Walter Sandberg of Yuma was elected state vice commander of the legion, and the following were elected members of the executive committee:

George H. Meyers, Flagstaff.
A. J. Lettloff, Bisbee.
George W. Nilsson, Prescott.
R. M. Alton, Clifton.
Oscar Ruggles, Phoenix.

National Delegates Chosen

The following were elected delegates to the national convention:
J. C. Greenway, Warren.
Chiff Faires, Globe.
Lewis S. Douglas, Jerome.
Power Conway, Phoenix.
Gerald Jones, Tucson.

Globe Captures Convention

The next state convention will be held at Globe, Ariz., on the second Monday in August, 1920.

Phoenix was selected as state headquarters of the league over the opposition of Cochise delegation. Ira B. Jernalemon declaring that the headquarters should be at the home of the legion commander and further, that the establishing of headquarters at Phoenix would make the legion susceptible to state politics.

Passes Many Resolutions

The legion passed resolutions condemning those responsible for the alleged protection of conscientious objectors and demanded an investigation by congress; condemning the socialists and anarchists; denouncing the misuse of the flag and uniform in business; endorsing the so-called Lane soldier settlement plan; demanding re-employment of returned soldiers; for the protection of service men's rights under the war risk insurance act; favoring equal suffrage, and condemning the use of military titles by civilians and others.

UPHOLDS ARIZONA LAW

Members of the Arizona corporation commission were very much gratified to receive a copy of a recent decision of the Michigan supreme court on the matter of stock sales without a permit, an issue that has been a bone of contention in this state. In the case of W. S. Edward versus Walter for the National Piano company, an Arizona corporation, and others, the court holds that stock may not be sold in Michigan without a permit, under a law very similar to the Arizona statute, and defines sale as a transfer for any valuable consideration. In this specific case the sale was an exchange of stock. After the exchange, the plaintiff demanded the return of his original stock and was denied, and the court holds the defendants responsible for its value on the ground that the stock they issued in exchange in the Arizona corporation was not sold under a permit in Michigan.

JASTRO ASSETS MEAT

PRICES NOT JUSTIFIED

BAKERSFIELD, July 12.—Henry A. Jastro, cattleman of national reputation and former president of the American Livestock Association, tonight gave out a statement saying that present retail meat prices were not justified by the price paid producers of cattle. Mr. Jastro, after reading a statement by L. A. Nares, president of the California Cattleman's Association, corroborated Nares' statement that the high prices of beef to the consumer are out of proportion to the wholesale prices, but said that cattlemen of this state are not suffering great financial loss through over-production.

"I agree with Nares," said Jastro, "that there is no justification in present prices now charged by butchers to the consumer, but I do not believe that the California cattlemen are suffering from a loss through over-production, as we have no over-production in this state. If the Congressmen and the Senators will support the Kendrick bill which is now pending and put it through the evil will be remedied."

START ROUND UP OF RANGE HORSES 25TH TO COMBAT DISEASE

PHOENIX, July 13.—The livestock sanitary board and the forest service have set July 25 as the opening date for the beginning of the series of round-ups in Apache and Navajo counties to gather up all range horses in that section and subject them to the blood test for dourine, for the purpose of the eradication of this disease.

For this purpose the board is sending out letters to all the stock owners in that section, setting the dates for them to report to the officers of the board and the forest service and assist in the round-ups. The letter, in part reads:

Dear Sir: A round-up of all horses in Apache and Navajo counties, has been ordered by the joint action of the livestock sanitary board of Arizona and the forest service. This round-up will be progressive, running from east to west and in your section will begin on or about _____.

All owners of horses on the range in your section will be required to cooperate with the agents of this board and the forest service in bringing together all their range horses into quarantine pastures and holding them there until each animal can be examined given a blood test and found to be either healthy or affected with dourine—the disease we intend to eradicate by this round-up.

So prevalent has this disease become upon the ranges of Apache and Navajo counties that drastic measures for its eradication have become necessary and to the end of working out a method, a joint meeting of the livestock sanitary board and the forest service was recently held in Flagstaff, at which the action above outlined was taken. You are, of course, aware of the authority vested in the livestock sanitary board and in the forest service to compel, if necessary, the cooperation of stock owners. But neither the board nor the forest service have any desire to resort to legal proceedings or to a blanket quarantine to enforce their orders unless it becomes necessary by the refusal of stock owners to cooperate in an effort that is designed to be of benefit to them only.

You are, therefore, instructed to report to _____ of the forest service or _____, inspector of the livestock sanitary board at _____ on _____ ready to take part in a round-up of horses in your district for the purpose as above outlined.

Yours very truly,

ED STEPHENS,

Secretary Live Stock Sanitary Board

RE-RECORDING OF LIVE STOCK BRANDS NO SMALL TASK

PHOENIX, July 13.—Re-recording of brands in use in Arizona by stockmen is giving the livestock sanitary board a great deal of work, but the result to the stock industry is more than ample pay for any amount of labor, according to Ed Stephens, secretary of the board.

About 400 applications have been handled already, and the office force is working Saturday afternoons and nights in an effort to keep ahead of the rush.

Many interesting features are being brought to light by the applications for the registration of brands. A large number of titles have been found to be defective and the board has lent its assistance to straightening them out.

For instance, one brand that was filed for registration was found to have been transferred 15 times, and not a single bill of sale filed with the board. It was necessary for the present owner of the brand to find all the 14 previous owners of the brand and have each one make a bill of sale to his successor in interest, thus forming a complete chain, and by recording the bills of sale to bring it down to date and make the proper registration possible.

So far as the records of the board go, the stock under this brand might have been claimed by the man who originally owned it, after 14 others had purchased it and the stock it represented. It is absolutely necessary, Mr. Stephens pointed out, that the bill of sale of a brand be recorded with the commission.

The total number of brands in use in the state, both as active and holding brands, all to be recorded is estimated by Mr. Stephens at 19,000, but this will eliminate over half the present brands that are no longer used, but encumber the records.

LITTLE GIRL IN FALL FROM A SECOND STORY WINDOW

Dillon, of Chloride, had a narrow escape from death or serious injury at the Beale Hotel Monday night when she fell from a second story to the ground a distance of eighteen feet. When her parents got to her they found that she had been badly shaken up, but was unhurt.
